The Carmel Pine Cone

53rd Year — No. 42 PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA 93921 Oct. 19, 1967 PRICE, 15 CENTS

This dramatic, forceful photograph of the Golden Gate Bridge so beautifully captured by Pirkle Jones will be on display with other equally moving photographs by Jones and Ruth Marion Baruch at the Photography Center at Sunset Center. Friends of Photography will host an informal open reception Saturday at 8:30 to view these photos. The show will run through November 19th. Of special interest to those attending the Fall Symposium, THE MEANING OF THE SCENE, at Monterey Peninsula College, will be the fascinatinating new documentary series of still photographs of the Haight-Ashbury life by Miss Baruch.

Symphony Opens Season

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra opens its concert season in Carmel on October 24, at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium.

This first performance will mark the local debut of new conductor Jan deJong and concertmaster Michael Rosenker. DeJong joined the staff this summer after serving as musical director of the San Leandro Symphony Orchestra. Rosenker, who was with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra for 20 years, was most recently concertmaster with the Yomiuri Nippon Symphony Orchestra.

Two new Carmel musicians have also been added to the musical roster. They are George Beck, violin, and Richard Bragg, bass. In addition, 14 Carmelites who have been members of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra for many years will once again be seen on Sunset's stage including Lloyd Clapper, oboe; Roni Cummings, violin; Mary Rosalie Haslett, harp; David Hawley, trumpet; Henry Huntington, cello; Sharon Jones, violin; J. W. Larson, percussion; John Morrice, violin; Marjorie Oren, cello; Charlotte Perry, violin; Helen Shutes, viola; Mary Jane Sprung, violin; Mary Smith, violin, and Sheila Webster, violin.

An all-orchestral program will be presented beginning with Richard Wagner's prelude to the opera "Der Meistersinger." The major work of the evening is Symphony No. 6 in F Major also known as the Pastoral Symphony by Beethoven. There are five movements that cover a wide range of musical expression including a peasant dance, bird calls, and a thunderstorm.

As a contrast, the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will perform "Variacones Concertantes" by the contemporary Agrentinian composer Alberto Ginastera. They consist of a theme, an interlude for strings, seven variations, an interlude for winds, a reprise of the theme for basses and a final variation which is in the form of a rondo for the entire orchestra. Each of the first chair players will be featured in solo variations.

The finale for this first concert will be Tchaikovsky's overture-fantasy "Romeo and Juliet."

Ticket information can be obtained by contacting the Symphony office in Sunset Center or calling 624-4125 for reservations.

Pipe Organ Dedicated

The new chancel and pipe organ at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, just east of Middle School in Carmel Valley was dedicated at last Sunday's 10:30 a.m. service with Reverend Burkett Cree officiating.

The chancel, built of marble imported from Italy, and designed by George De Ris of New Jersey, was built lovingly by Floyd Carter, Donald Berry, Kenneth Wade, and Willis Shepard.

The pipe organ built in Ludwigsburg, Germany, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kutschera, was played by Prof. Herbert Nanney, or-

Hearing Set On Rezoning Sunset Center

For quite some time the city government has studied the facts surrounding the question of rezoning the Sunset Center property. A PUCLIC HEARING has been set for 3 p.m. Wednesday, October 25 at the City Hall. This will be the time when everyone will have the opportunity to express their accumulated opinions as to whether the Carmel Commercial Zone should be expanded to include Sunset Center.

At present Carmel-by-the-Sea is situated on about 480 acres of land, not including recently annexed property. Of the 480 acres, only about 20 acres are zoned Commercial, according to the building inspection office.

Many of the Monarch Butterflies have completed their journey from Alaska and are now clinging to the moss covered pine trees at Millar Motel in Pacific Grove.

Fine Arts & Crafts Festival

Many exciting things will happen this weekend when the second annual Fine Arts and Crafts Festival opens on Friday, October 20 and runs through Sunday, October 22, at the Monterey Fairgrounds. Daily hours will be 11 to 7 p.m.

Arts and crafts in action, such as ceramics, forging delicate jewelry, hand weaving, woodworking, glass blowing, sculpting and photography will be demonstrated by over a hundred artists and craftsmen. A juried show of paintings and crafts will award $2500 in prizes to winners.

Music, folk dancing, ballet and theatre are other arts to be featured. Friday evening at 8, the San Diego Ballet will perform in the concert arena. On Saturday at 1 p.m., an outdoor concert will be given by the Fort Ord Army Band. At 2 and 4 p.m., the White Oaks Theatre will present "Winnie The Pooh" in the main exhibit building. At 8 p.m., the Keio Mandolin Orchestra of Tokyo will play in the concert arena.

Sunday is designated International Day with all types of artists in action, music, dancers and singers throughout the day. At 1 p.m. Scottish Bagpipers will be heard in an outdoor concert. From 2 to 4 p.m. International Folk Dancers and Singers of American, Filipino, Japanese, Turkish, Greek, German, Bulgarian, Italian, Balkan, and Spanish background will perform.

Sponsored by various ethnic and national groups, decorated booths, set around the fairgrounds, will offer foods from many cultures and many lands. Everything from fried chicken to corn on the cob, from Japanese Teriyaki on a skewer to Mexican treats, French crepes, Italian foods, and many other will tempt the taste buds.

Special feature will be a sculpture exhibit by Gordon Newell of Cannery Row, who has worked in granite, marble, wood, bronze and other cast materials. His work has won first awards in many national shows and purchase awards in museums throughout America.

WEATHER

Mostly sunny, 10% chance of rain. Our temperature forecasts last week were 10 degrees low but a cool front is moving in and we predict highs near 72 and lows near 52.

Incidentally . . .

Dolores Street was virtually deserted at the height of the afternoons of Monday and Tuesday, with most of us heading either for the beach or the nearest soda fountain in search for some relief from the very warm weather. Even the bird's chirp was a little weak from the heat . . . and the sea gulls stayed out of the sky to float in the coolness of the ocean water. The heat also got to the disc jockey at a local radio station for when we called to ask, "Do you know What the Temperature Rose to Yesterday," he replied, "If you'll tell me the recording artist, I'll see if I can find it." You'll agree, it WAS hot, with temperatures hitting 90 degrees.

Last week the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department celebrated Fire Prevention Week by touring local schools with fire prevention talks, providing children with rides on fire engines, and hosting a street dance held Saturday evening. The department should be commended for their excellent services, which by the way lowers our insurance rates and protects our valuable property here in Carmel. We must take special note of their vigilant efforts when combating a fire on 13th Street between Casanova and Monte Verde recently. Neighbors reported that even though the fire was within three feet of their property, the volunteers were able to extinguish the blaze before it did damage to their garages, trees and shrubs.

COUNTRY CLUB GATE

If you have the feeling that your leisure time is eluding you, take a moment to consider

a new concept of carefree living

This development of individually sited, handsome Garden Homes, brings the concept of relatively maintenance-free leisure living to buyers on a heavily wooded nine acre site. Pebble Beach Golf Links, Spyglass Hill Golf Course, Cypress Country Club, the Seventeen Mile Drive, world famous Del Monte Lodge, and the beautiful Beach Club are within five miles of the site. Carmel, historic Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel Valley, the jet served Monterey County Airport, and the awe inspiring Big Sur country are all within minutes.

This program will appeal to both the "weekenders" or second home buyers and also to the year-round residents who no longer are interested in yard work and exterior maintenance, but who prefer to spend their leisure time enjoying the many pleasures of the Monterey Peninsula.

The homes have been designed to provide large entertaining areas, attractive modern kitchens, luxurious dressing and bath areas, large bedrooms, ample closets, attached two-car garage, fireplaces, and many other fine features.

Country Club Gate will be surrounded by a scenic forest greenbelt in perpetuity and will be a charming, sealed, park like area. The ground is being leased from Del Monte Properties on a long term basis (98 years), and the monthly ground rental per unit will be nominal. All exterior maintenance and garden up-keep will be contracted for and each home owner will pay his share of the cost to the condominium association.

- Adjacent to Country Club entrance to Forest
- Estimated monthly maintenance cost, $68.54
- Priced from $29,900 to $36,900

Fund Drive For Day School Chapel

A major expansion program for the All Saints Day School in Carmel Valley is now under way under the direction of Dr. Jack L. Stein, with Mrs. Sidney L. Williams and Col. Karl L. Scherer (USA, Ret).

Planned to cover three years, the first phase is geared to collect $35,000 to complete the "Chapel Fund" and add additional meeting and classroom space. Present plans call for ground breaking the first of next year, with construction to be competed by June graduation.

The total drive will run for three years and will include new athletic facilities, faculty meeting rooms, an office for the headmaster, storage space, a library, additional classrooms and a small infirmary.

Chairman, Dr. Jack Stein, reports that the drive is almost complete for the first phase, and he will welcome any support to complete funds for this $5,000. Information, folders or pledge cards may be obtained by calling the school at 624-9171.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Jascha Veissi, Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Mazzeo

Musical Comments:

The First Concert

A program guaranteed to stimulate the most jaded musical appetite and keep awake the most reluctant husband was offered by the Arts Coordinating Council in The First Concert at Sunset Auditorium last Thursday.

Music by Mozart and Beethoven served as a foil by which the dissonant beauties of contemporary composers Krenek, Hindemith and Milhaud showed to best advantage.

Volume and timbre of clarinet played by Rosario Mazzeo, and viola and violin played by Jascha Veissi, seemed exceptionally well matched. Katie Clare Mazzeo completed the trio, playing throughout with style and grace.

A fine audience applauded a concert that shattered any preconceived notions that chamber music makes for a dull evening.

Cellist Prodigy

MPC Music Hall was packed to hear virtuoso cellist Nathan Rosen and his equally brilliant fellow performer at the piano, Sharon Davis, in their recent recital. Introduced last May by the Carmel Music Society, the 18-year-old went on to win the Tschaikovsky Competition in Moscow.

DeBussy Series

The large group of Carmelites attending Gilbert Boyer's Debussy piano recital-lecture series at M.P.C. Music Hall are continually amazed at the repertoire of this sensitive musician who plays a dozen difficult pieces a week as casually as though they were folk songs. His remarks about Debussy's life and work are fascinating. Seats are available for the last recital, October 31. MH

President's List

Donald D. Koski, Strawberry Hill, Pebble Beach, a sophomore majoring in social sciences, made the president's list at California State Polytechnic College, San Louis Obispo.

SUPPORT SYMPHONY

Reception for Trio

To look at her, in a long green and gold brocade gown, one would never have suspected that Mrs. Monte Harrington had had the responsibility of overall chairman of arranging The First Concert for the Arts Coordinating Council which featured the Mazzeos of Carmel Highlands and Jascha Veissi of Carmel. She also organized the reception and designed and decorated the punch tables on which a fall theme was carried out.

Mrs. Frank Ringland greeted concert goers at the reception at Carmel Art Association Galleries following the concert. She is the Symphony Association delegate to the Arts Coordinating Council.

She was joined by Mrs. Leonard Klene, whose husband is president of the Arts Coordinating Council, and Mrs. H. R. Lusignan, of the Carmel Music Society. It was Mrs. Klene who had heard the artists play together and who suggested the benefit performance.

Wearing a champagne mink jacket which matched her hair was Mrs. George McMahon whose Pebble Beach home was used last week for the Symphony Guild Tea.

Rody Holt, in black and white, represented Cultural Arts. Carmel Museum of Art gallery was represented by board member, Marjorie Lloyd, and Kent Seavey, curator.

Also on hand to congratulate the musical artists of the evening were the Gilbert Boyers. Mr. Boyers has been doing a fascinating series of Debussy lecture-piano recitals at M.P.C.

Other hostesses assisting Mrs. Harrington, were Mrs. Robert Robertson, Mrs. Frank Crispo of White Oaks Theatre, and Mrs. Tonya Trautle of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies staff.

New Sloop Back from Hawaii

Richard Catlin's new sloop, Celebrity, specially rigged for the Trans-Pac Yacht Race in July, finally made it back, using power most of the way due to light winds. They hit 20-25 foot seas at Point Sur and tremendous seas along Big Sur, losing about five hours.

Crew were Kirk Erskine of Carmel Highlands, Ed McPhee, Dick Clark and Jack Riggin, commodore of the Monterey Peninsula Yacht Club.

"My Most Interesting Trip" Winners Are Announced

On February 9 of this year, the Carmel Pine Cone initiated the travel contest, "My Most Interesting Trip" to which 22 persons responded with exciting articles written about adventuresome places such as Russia, the Congo, England, North Africa, and a host of others.

As of last week, the remaining travel story was published in the Pine Cone, marking the end of the travel contest. The time has come for the staff to announce the winning entries in the contest with the 1st place being presented a $50 Savings Bond and the 2d and 3d places a $25 bond.

The travel story selected as the best concerned the country of Russia written beautifully by Mira Talbot. In her own words, Mrs. Talbot described Russia in this manner: "Although everything surpassed my expectations — overwhelmed me in fact — the ostentatious display of superfluous wealth surprised me the most." Quoting the guide who took her through a magnificent museum, "Before the revolution, the palaces, the museums and the theatres were served solely for the royalty and nobility. Today our leaders are bringing back to us, the people, what rightfully always belonged to us."

The second, a close second we might add, dealt with a trip into the "Stone Age" . . . New Guinea by Marcia F. De Voe. This most interesting trip was Mrs. De Voe's exciting account as she toured through the wilds of New Guinea. She mentioned that most of the natives still practiced head hunting and that "after eating the flesh (which tastes like pork I'm told) the head may be used

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bennett

Margee Goulding Weds Saturday

All Saints' Episcopal Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Margee Louise Goulding and Billy B. Bennett last Saturday afternoon at 4:30. The Reverend David Hill performed the double ring ceremony. Margee is the daughter of Dr and Mrs. Robert L. Goulding of Carmel. Billy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bennett of Cottonwood, Arizona, attended the wedding.

Margee was attended by her three sisters, Kathleen, a student at U.C.L.A., as her maid of honor, Roberta, student at De Anza, and Kelley who is at Carmel Middle Middle School. Kathie wore a yellow velvet empire gown with bell-shaped sleeves while the bridesmaids wore similar gowns in orange flame velvet. They carried cascade bouquets of roses and ivy.

Margee was dressed in traditional white, her peau de soie gown sweeping the floor with a chapel train. Her full length lace mantilla was brought to her from Brussels by her sister Kathie who spent the summer abroad. Her flowers were a cascade of butterfly orchids and varigated ivy. Margee carried a handkerchief carried by her great - grandmother, her grandmother, her mother, and her godmother and aunt for whom she was named, Mrs. Roger McClung of Dayton, Ohio.

Billy chose Todd Walker of Los Angeles for his best man. Ushers included the bride's brothers, Philip and Harry, of Carmel, and Ron Heisman of Monterey.

There was a large reception, decorated with yellow and flame begonias and mums, at the bride's home, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon in Hawaii. The young couple will live in Pacific Grove

Graduate of Carmel High School, Margee attended Miami University, Monterey Peninsula College, and Palo Alto Secretarial School. Billee has a B.S. degree from Arizona State University.

Carmel Art Modes

By Louise Cook

Marie Van Auken, Photographer

The "Monterey County Painting 1967" exhibit running thru November 8 at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association could be termed more conservative than any they have had for a very long time. Even the prize winning paintings, although appearing abstract, on close observation can be seen to be representational.

Three $300 prizes were awarded to artists S. C. Yuan, Jerry Wasserman and Helen Dooley. Mr. Yuan's "Trio" was chosen best of show and he will be given a one man show later at this gallery. Mrs. William Arnold, president, presents the checks to the winners.

The show was quite selective with only 16 artists being chosen to exhibit. The three receiving the top honors are members of the Carmel Art Association. Another Carmel Art Association member exhibiting is Margaret Ziegler whose "Mist on Mountain" was sold while being shown here.

Mr. Ray Gere, Carmel High School English literature teacher is shown with senior students Ed Harrison and Sherri Stuart admiring a Carmel Beach Scene painted by William Keith.

Thirty five students and teachers of the new Carmel High School Humanities course visited the Carmel Muesum of Art last week. They were lectured on the history of the Carmel art scene by the Museum curator Mr. Kent Seavey.

As reported in this paper last August, the Humanities course is a creative experience for students in which teachers of art, English, history and music are associates in learning. Assisting Mr. Gere in this course are political science teacher Mr. Peter Lyon and Art instructor Mr. William Stone.

The Carmel Art Association resumes its policy of one man shows this month with 20 vibrant oil paintings by Linford Donovan in the Beardsley Room.

A room filled with portraits by this artist is very nearly overwhelming, each one expresses such an abundance of color, vitality and joie de vivre. Mrs. Donovan's subjects are truly international, fine character studies of distinctive racial types. Her travels abroad provide her with authentic subjects and backgrounds. Among her pictures is a study of two seamen sighting the morning stars painted in strong contrasts of light and dark.

"Carmel, The Garden of God..."

by Dorothy Johnson

Come rain or high winds—the sunshine of spring when birds fly home: the cool misty air of summer that is pleasing to the nose; October, when hills and vales become a golden brown and petals fall about my feet; or the cold of winter when I sit and talk with friends beside a warming fire — CARMEL is the same gentle fold of the lamb from one generation to another, when man, dauntless as ever, will find in its lofty nature whatever he may seek. CARMEL is The Garden of God . . .

JOHN J. RILING, JR., Planning Director for the city of Carmel, says: "I think of Carmel as a Rembrandt painting; and anything that would mar its surface or its philosophical heart would not only pain the people, but would also be offensive to me."

His political attitude may be likened somewhat to that of Perry Newberry, who early in Carmel's history sought election on an art ticket to the local Board of Trustees. Newberry, writer and journalist, tacked this poster on the town bulletin board:

"Don't vote for Perry Newberry —

If you hope to see Carmel become a city,
If you want its growth boosted,
If you desire its commercial success,
If street lamps on the corners mean happiness to you,
If concrete pavements represent your civic ambitions,
If you have less regard for the unique character of Carmel than for the opportunity of making money,
If you think that a glass factory is of greater value than a sand dune, or a millionaire than an artist, or a mansion than a little brown cottage,
If you truly want Carmel to become a boosting, hustling, wideawake lively metropolis,

DON'T VOTE FOR PERRY NEWBERRY.

John Riling faced me with a sudden earnestness. "There is no lid on the potential of Carmel," he said. "The forward attitude of Steve Grant, our mayor; the City Council and the Planning Commission, keep, maintain, and perpetuate Carmel. We are like a family with a unity of purpose and heart! We shall continually attempt to follow the pattern of Carmel's self-development that was heartily endorsed by Floyd Adams, retired building inspector and former planning director. Carmel is a sanctuary — a philosophy and a way of life —that has been and still is inspired by its people, who are not afraid to express themselves."

It is simply not true that Carmelites are opposed to progress. They merely dislike all systematic effort to bring in industries that would, in any way, threaten to ruin the natural beauty of our community. "You are so right," John agreed. "Our little old ladies also contribute to the city. They have get-up-and-fight for their ideals, and their individual effect assists in maintaining our artistic climate."

"I believe we have the healthiest economic situation on the west coast," John said, proudly, "and many of our visitors are curious as to how this was accomplished." His answer is always the same. "Please —," he suggests, "when you go away, think of the things we lack!" It does seem to be true that what Carmel lacks is what outsiders appreciate the most.

Small redwood cottages with moss flecked roofs peek-a-boo from tangles of lilac, acacia or manzanita. There are no sidewalks. No street numbers or lamps.

At Work

Even the newer homes appear to be mellowed by time. Chalkrock paths lead to flowers where hummingbird nests are hidden below the silver of lichens. Near the fragrance of honeysuckle or fuschia often they fight, bill against bill, in aerial jousts to defend the source of their food.

Hand lettered signs may appear on the door of a home shop, or a gallery — "Ring the cow bell. If no answer, leave a note." "Salmon came in at the mouth of the river. Gone fishing." "Fixing a leak in the plumbing. Back at 2 p.m." "Playing baseball. The Abalone League is going strong!" "Sorry, I forgot — need to write a book. See you next year."

The post office is a Carmel institution. In most cases, there is still no home mail delivery, but it opens at 8:30 and does not close until 5. Between the hours of 10 and 10:30, or 2:30, you are likely to meet almost everyone you know, either in front of the door or at their boxes. It is sort of a "Carmel Happy Hour" when the mail is distributed, and everyone "catches up" on what's going on in Carmel, who is doing what, and why they are doing it. Fred Strong, postmaster, came here in 1929, when "it wasn't so busy", but there is still time for friendly greetings, a bit of harmless gossip, and an occasional dog fight. Dogs are important to Carmelites, and there's probably at least one, maybe two, attached to almost every household.

Our City Planning Director

On the maternal side of his family, John Riling is a descendant of two United States presidents — William Henry Harrison, our ninth president; and Benjamin Harrison, who signed The Declaration of Independence, was probably the first president to visit the Monterey Peninsula. Born and educated in Lawrence, Kansas, where he took his architectural degree, John likes to draw, and is interested in woodworking and water colors. He also collects antiques, and in the corner window of his home, there is a milk glass bowl that once graced the sideboard of Mt. Vernon, home of George and Martha Washington, first president and first lady of our land.

Just Relaxing

John is a bachelor, has a student pilot's license; and in addition to his job as Planning Director, he enjoys good plays, music, golf, bowling, and long hikes along the coast. Between 1960 and 1964, he collaborated with Dr. Frances Gaw on "The Preliminary Re-Evaluation of 1965, he co-authored "Proposed Major Parks, Boulevards, Parkways, and Greenways" for Kansas City, Missouri. In January, 1967 when he was a member of the Monterey County Planning Department, "Scenic Corridor," which recognizes the importance of blending landscape and roadways was published.

"I took a substantial salary cut to work in Carmel," John Riling told me, "and I'm so glad I did — the sky is the limit in this area — it constantly grows and gets better! I love it!"

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Bavarian Cinema Supper"

Celebrating "Oktoberfest" is very popular on our Peninsula this month. First it was the rollicking "A night in Munich" at the Mark Thomas Inn. Complete with Bavarian band, dances and menu it was a huge success. Now we'll view Explorer-arama's narrated film on Bavaria this Friday at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

Instead of a full-coursed dinner, we've planned an effortless German supper served at home either preceding or following the picture.

Bavarian Fondue Supper

Cheese Fondue with Franks
Wilted Lettuce Salad
Apple Strudel
Beer Wine Mocha

Actually a Swiss invention, fondue's fame has spread to Germany as well as to other European countries. The fun begins when guests spear pieces of crusty bread and small franks onto long handled forks then dip these into bubbling fondue. The trick is to coat the combination with melted cheese and then get it to ones mouth without losing any along the way. It's wise to serve gay paper bibs and cover the table with an amusing papier mache cloth to be discarded when the party is over.

Cheese Fondue with Franks

One lb. shredded cheese—Swiss, Gouda or Gruyere, or some of each for sharpened flavor; 2 tbsps. flour; 2 cups of any light dry white wine; 3 tbsps. Kirschwasser or any non-sweetened fruit brandy; 1 clove garlic; 18 cocktail frankfurters; 1 loaf French bread, cut into bite-size pieces; salt, pepper and grated nutmeg to taste. Serves 6.

Dredge cheese with flour. Rub an earthenware casserole, chafing dish or imported fondue pot with cut garlic. Pour in the wine and set over very low flame. Fondue is best made over an alcohol stove, the flame of which is easily adjustable; or an electric plate with an asbestos pad. When the wine is heated to the point that air bubbles rise to the surface (never let it boil), add cheese gradually, stirring often, always in the same direction and with a fork. Let cheese dissolve completely before adding more. Keep stiring until mixture bubbles lightly. Add seasonings to taste and brandy. Remove fondue from fire and set at once onto table heating element.

Should your masterpiece become too thick, add a little warm (never cold) dry white wine. Toward the end, some of the melted cheese will form a brown crust in bottom of pot. This can be lifted out with a fork and is a delicacy.

Wilted Lettuce Salad

Tear crisp lettuce into bite-size pieces, add sliced green onion or chopped chives and sliced unpeeled red radishes. Season with salt, cracked pepper and a little boiling wine vinegar. Toss the salad, add crumbled fried, crisp bacon over top and serve in small wooden bowls.

If you are a working gal or guy and still want to gather in some pals before or after the film, why not just offer assorted cold cuts, potato salad doctored up with caraway seeds, crisp fried bacon bits and a little extra spark of vinegar or mustard. Provide pickles, olives, German cheeses, sweet butter, pumpernickle and black bread. Carmel's bakeries are expert at doing all the work for you as far as the apple strudel is concerned. Here's to a carefree Octoberfest, Carmel style.

Carmel metal sculptor Milton Williams provided the musicians to set the theme of the current fund-raising campaign for the Monterey County Symphony Association.

Chairman Philip C. Smith announced that this non-profit organization urgently needs funds. "We need help to bridge the gap between income and expenses," he said.

The Symphony Fund Committee chairman pointed out that the organization sponsors a comprehensive youth program, develops regional talent, provides educational opportunities, and benefits the local economy.

Smith has selected Mrs. Donald Criley, Mrs. Roderick L. Dewar, Mrs. Rody B. Holt, Mrs. Robert O. McMahan, Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, Mrs. James W. Moore and Mrs. Trthur C. Stewart to assist him in the fund-raising campaign.

The Complete Gardener

. . . a regular diet of information having to do with plants

As a good doctor can read the symptoms of illness in his fellow humans, so can we detect diseases and deficiencies in plants. Some plants speak eloquently of their hunger while others suffer in silence. Which plant food or mineral is needed? The patient explorer can apply separate plots of each element to see which responds to what. The impatient majority will get out the "shotgun." This means a complete fertilizer, to supply all these nutrients, plus a granular superferrite, which takes care of the need for iron, zinc, manganese, and other trace elements. Milorganite is also a highly-regarded remedy for general deficiencies. This fertilizer contains all of the necessary minerals, in addition to the basic nutrients.

Those who have alkaline soils and water may discover bright, new yellow foliage (sometimes becoming almost white.) This is the first symptom of an iron deficiency. An iron shortage is most frequently seen in late summer and fall, especially after excessive usage of fast-acting nitrogens have induced excessive growth. It is usually noticed first in acid-loving plants. Look at your camellias and azaleas. Then it shows up in roses, fruit trees, strawberries, pyacantha, and others. General rule: An iron deficiency shows up first in the newer leaves.

A lack of zinc causes leaves to become mottled. As the condition becomes severe the new growth is affected, causing a bunchy top and rosettes of leaves at the tips of branches. This is especially noticeable in citrus.

When the tips of stems die, followed by a lush growth of water sprouts, and leaves turn flabby, it is probable that the plant lacks copper. If a wide yellow band appears around older leaves, but the new growth is not affected, magnesium deficiency is indicated. A molybdenum shortage shows

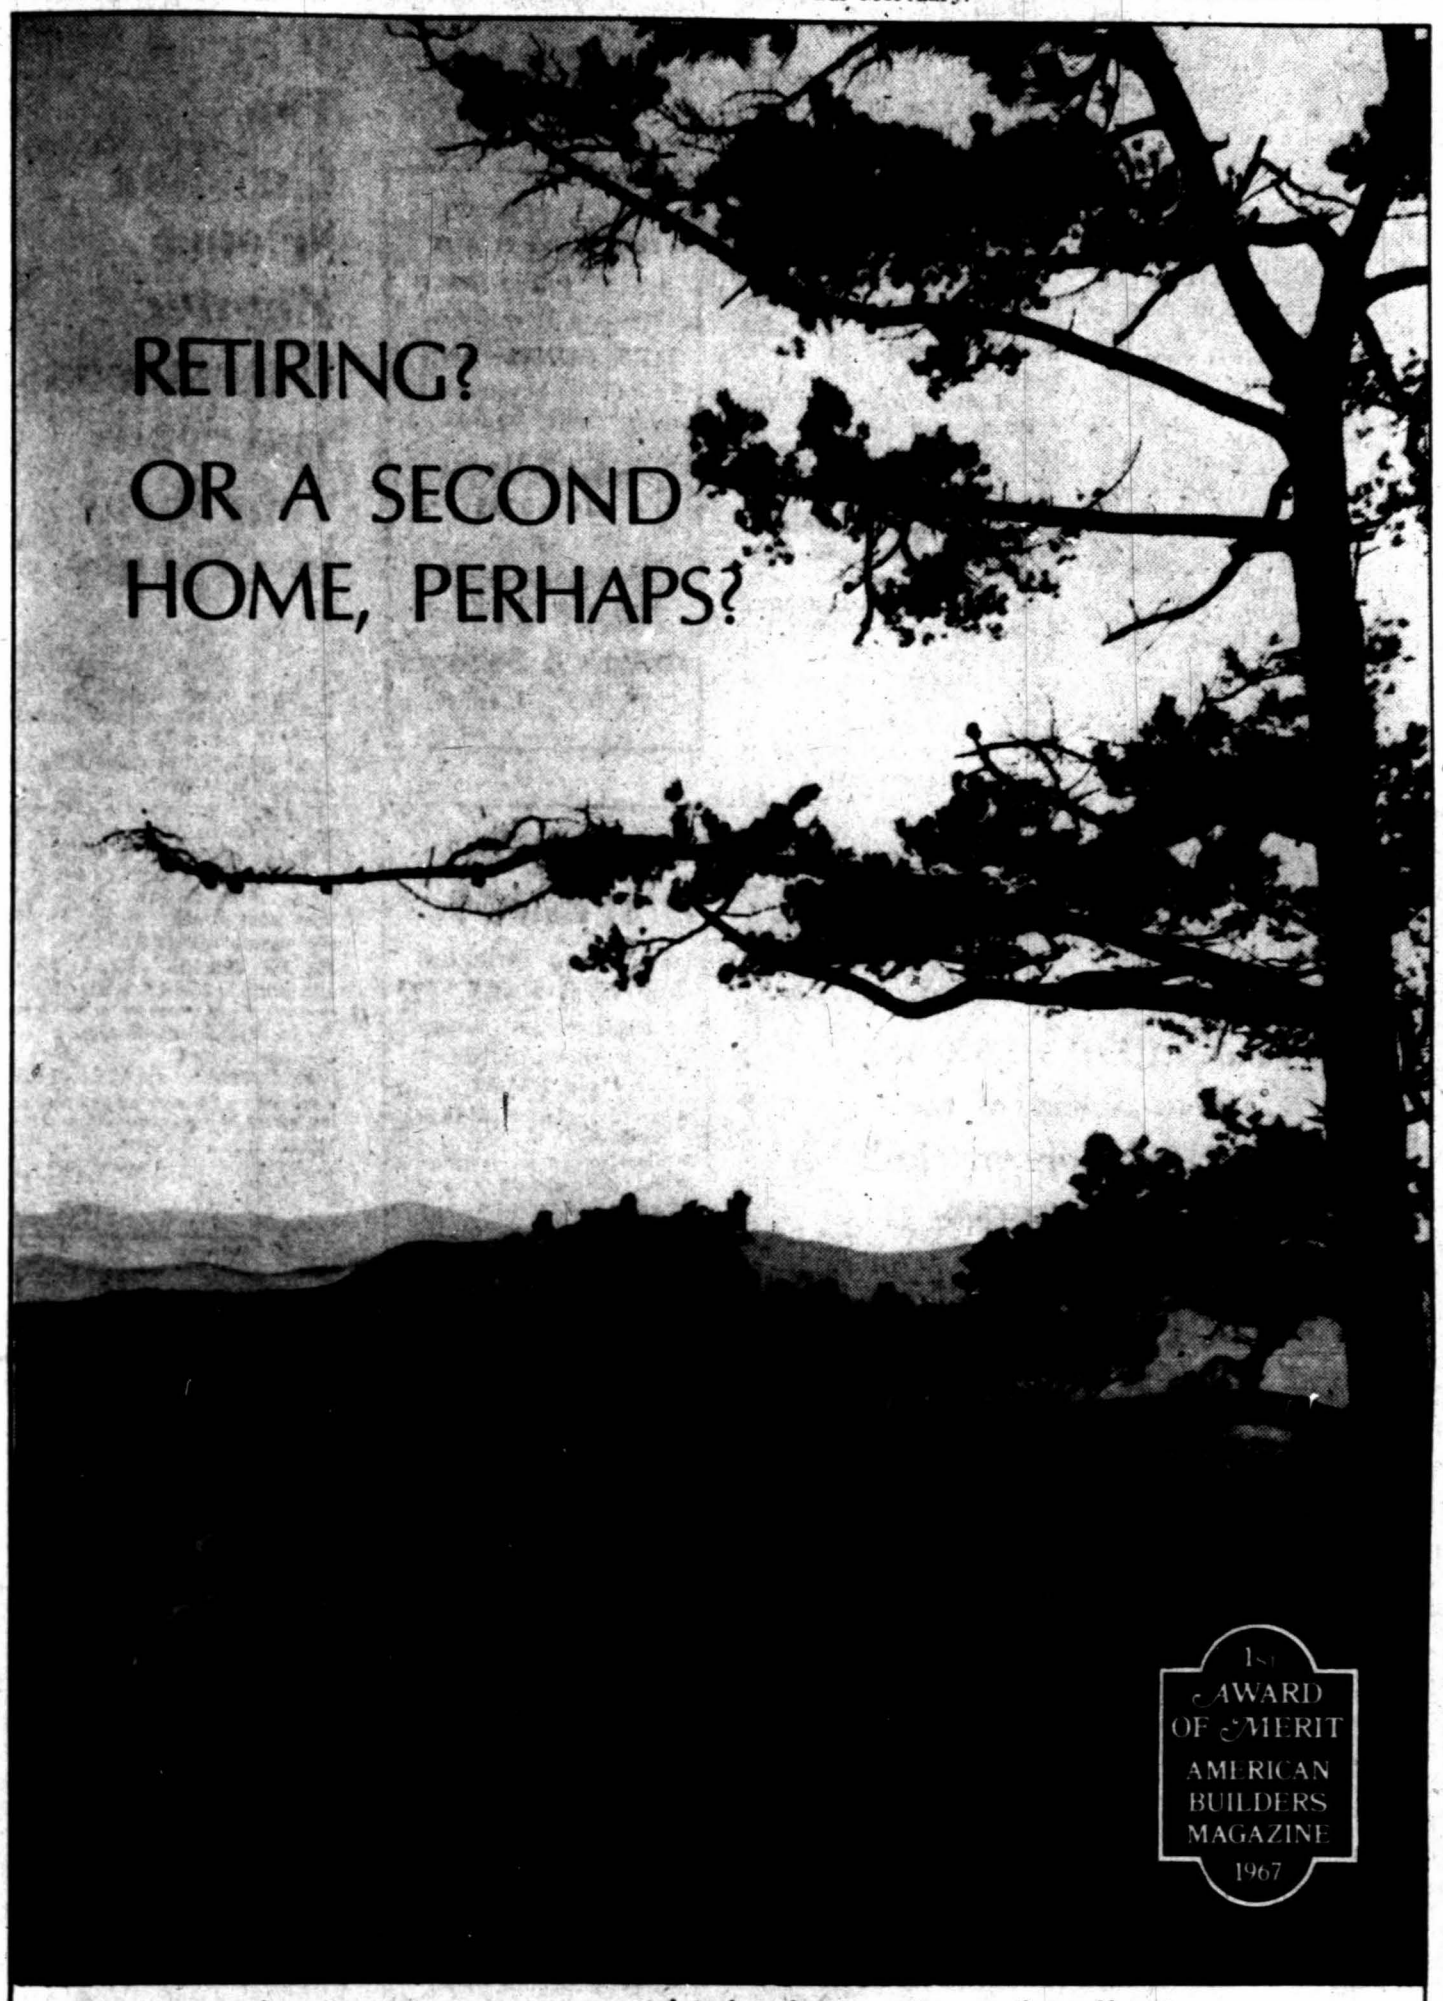
Wrote Fill-ins For Carlos Drake

Terry Rowson (Jones), hostess for the new Pine Cone Wrangler restaurant in Del Monte Center, grew up in Carmel and used to write fill-ins in 1942 for Carlos Drake, then publisher of the Pine Cone newspaper. Mr. Drake is the father of Betsy Drake who was educated in Europe and who later married Cary Grant.

OBITUARIES

Stanley Sims, 78, Sonoma. Survived by wife Alice, daughter, Miss Barbara Sims of Carmel, another daughter, two sons and 8 grandchildren. Paul Mortuary.

Samuel R. Kulberg, 72, Carmel. Survived by wife, Dorris, daughter, son, six grandchildren. Paul Mortuary.



A great success story high above Carmel Valley?

The new adult residential community Del Mesa Carmel is a "best-seller". It was quietly opened to the public just a few months ago. A surprising number of residences were sold within weeks. Inquiries came from as far away as New York and Boston. Only one advertisement appeared in local newspapers. But a mailing list of several hundred had been built-up from casual callers who had seen our "meadow in the sky" and our plans. Now even on days when the weather-man turns the other way, people take the beautiful, winding driveway up to the top to see if we have what they've heard we have. We have . . . so they're still coming!

The reasons are simple: an inspirating location 400 feet above Carmel Valley, fresh, imaginative planning and design, the best of everything in carpeting, fixtures, closet space, and all modern housekeeping facilities. Plus views of valley, mountains and the sea which we believe are unmatched in an adult residential community where constant growth and bigger-and-better urbanization are not only unwanted, but impossible. There's only so much room on a mountain-top!

But come and meet us, talk with us, stand where our views are truly inspiring, get the fresh, exciting "feel" of the place. See for yourself! If you'd like a beautiful color brochure before you make the trip, write to: Don McLean, P.O. Box 3688 P, Carmel California 93921, or telephone (408) 624-2732 (Carmel, Calif.)

PG&E is digging up our streets between 5th and 6th on San Carlos . . . but for good reason. To modernize downtown Carmel, they are engaged, with the blessings of the Council, in constructing underground lighting. They should be finished with this phase before Thanksgiving. PG&E has already put in underground lighting on Dolores between Ocean and 7th and San Carlos between 7th and Ocean.

The new polo field at Pebble Beach was used Sunday at 3 p.m. for a Polo Gymkhana, and informal polo match which was held to a walk because of the newness of the grass. It was the first time the field has been put to use.

If you remember, the City Council authorized some months ago the erection of a higher wall at the North end of the Police Station, hoping to eliminate the chance of anyone falling over the existing wall. Construction is now completed, and it really doesn't look too bad.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

STAFF AND STUDENTS BUSY

A number of special programs and events are taking place as the semester goes into full gear . . . with faculty participation as well as students. Some of these are:

Driver Education: With the new state law requiring class and behind-the-wheel training for those under 18, a course has been developed at R.L.S. under the direction of Assistant Headmaster Frank Keith and Dean of Men Ed Brown. The program will include wide use of films, speakers on safety, behind-the-wheel driving, car care and class lectures. The Chrysler Corporation, through Cypress Motors of Monterey, has provided a training car for the school.

Administrators: Staff members will attend a special seminar on "Student Unrest" held by the California Association of Secondary School Administrators in Salinas next Wednesday. Frank Keith, Peter Meckle and Ed Brown will represent R.L.S. at the meeting. This is one of a series of programs being attended by administrators of the school.

Teacher Review: The faculty is attending a series of in-school programs under the supervision of Frank Keith. The most recent meeting was on "Motivating Students' with Senior Math teacher Adm. Harold Pullen, English teacher Norman Ellis and German teacher Fiesela Morgner on the panel. All new teachers attended, with more discussions scheduled throughout the school year.

Alumni notes: Mr. Ricklefs has received word from Taylor Grant and Jerry Merksamer on their first days in college. Both boys expressed gratitude for their solid education foundation. In taking initial tests both found their training helped them to get a head start in their college work. Grant is at USC with Merksamer at UC at Davis.

Chess Team: Willis Cook, Ricky Karr and William Kondrat traveled to Sunnyvale to compete in a two day tournament at the Lockheed Employee's Recreational Auditorium. The boys, entered as individuals, each did well with Willis Cook taking high point honors for Stevenson. Team competition starts next week with local tournaments.

Debate team: Entering the first tournament of 1967-68, the debate team went to Soquel for a Pacific Forensic League contest. Most of the JV's had to stay home and take a P.S.A.T. test, but the team of Steve Stremmel and Arlen Chase made the quarter finals. A four team varsity squad did a little better, taking 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, plus varsity sweepstakes. Robert Howard and Pete Cowden defeated William Kondrat and Jack Booth on a split decision to win the tournament. Tied at third in the semi-finals was Joel Harris and Geoff Haynes plus Mike Greene and Bill Hand.

Coming: Parents Day on November 11th and Art Show and Festival on November 12th, open to the public. The new bust of Headmaster Ricklefs, donated by the Senior Class of 1967, will be on display, along with paintings from many local galleries. More details later.

"Our classified ad in the Pine Cone's For Rent column brought us the greatest results we've ever had in advertising," said Mrs. Margaret Wagner of Seaview Inn. "The first week, especially, we were beseiged with calls."

Third place was won by Ruth Upton who wrote how she and her husband decided to go off the beaten tourist route to Yucatan and take a freighter instead of the train. The ship was described as disembarking in a great hurry because the captain was not premitted to carry passengers.

In addition to the three winning entries, the Pine Cone is also presenting a $25 Savings Bond to Betty Patchin Greene for the first travel story to be published.

Bonds will be mailed to these writers in the near future.

1967 Monterey Grand Prix

by Ric Sanchez

The weather warm, the asphalt hot and slick, over 50,000 Sports Car enthusiasts looking for shade to hide from the sun, or climbing trees for a better view at the starting grid and still have some shade offered by the oak trees scattered around the track, the 1967 Monterey Grand Prix got under way.

Sponsored for charity by the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP), the 1967 Monterey Grand Prix, fourth in the Can-Am series, had the richest purse in the history of the famed 1.9 mile Laguna Seca race track.

New Zealand's Bruce McLaren, averaging 101.6 miles per hour in his orange McLaren M6A sped to the finish line to win the $75,000 Monterey Grand Prix. Driving 106 laps he covered 201.4 miles in a record 1 hour, 58 minutes and 55 seconds. Jim Hall in his Chaparral finished second, over a full lap behind McLaren. Both first and second place winners designed their cars.

Carmel's Chuck Parsons, who drove a fine race, went to the pits in the 61 lap when his gear box went out. He is expected to drive in the fifth race of the Can-Am series at Riverside on October 29. Good luck, Chuck.

The Canadian-American Challenge Cup is a six race series held at five American race tracks and one Canadian track, with awards totaling more than a half million dollars.

Saturday's Races

Southern California's Scooter Patrick, driving a Bosch Porsche 906 and averaging 94.7 miles per hour, took the checkered flag to win the $5,000 Ken Miles Memorial Saturday afternoon. Ed Leslie, of Monterey, came in second place driving his Lotus 23G to pick up $950 of the prize money. Leslie, driving an Austin Healy 3000, won the D and E Production race finishing just minutes before the start of the Ken Miles Memorial. This race is being held with the Canadian-American Challenge Cup circuit in honor of the great small car driver (under 2 liter—2000cc), Ken Miles who was killed last August at Riverside.

Richard Rose of Pacific Grove, driving a Triumph Spitfire won first place in G Production and eighth overall in the F, G Production, and B sedan race.

Back from Holland

Edith Jamieson who runs Holiday House is back from Holland where she was the guest of the family of Sjef Wildschut, the Dutch boy who stayed with her for nine months while he was studying photography with Steve Crouch. After visiting the Swiss lakes, she went on to London for the theatre.

Demonstrate For Peace

Carmel resident, Captain Francis Falge, supplied the Pine Cone with a clipping from "Human Events" which dealt with the request by the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism for a nationwide demonstration this weekend IN SUPPORT of the American soldiers in Viet Nam. The Committee evidently set its course to collide with the thousands of people who are protesting the war by blockading the major Army Induction Centers around the country.

The committee urged the populace of various cities to display flags, drive with their vehicle lights on and hold parades for returning veterans. They went further to suggest that every home, apartment, public building, office plant, etc. keep a light burning, visible to the outside, on the night of October 21.
